RATP Dev, ComfortDelGro Transit, and Alstom sign a partnership agreement to submit tenders for Grand Paris Express

RATP Dev, ComfortDelGro Transit, and Alstom today announced that they would form a consortium to submit tenders for the Grand Paris Express transport project. The three companies will create a joint venture* for that purpose, with RATP Dev as the majority shareholder.

As global players in the transport sector, RATP Dev, ComfortDelGro Transit, and Alstom have chosen to combine their strategic areas of expertise to offer the transport authority organising the project—Île-de-France Mobilités—and residents of the Île-de-France region integrated multimodal and intermodal transport solutions that meet the highest international standards for operation, maintenance, and service. This alliance marks the emergence of a player in the region with the broad spectrum of skills and experience needed to rise to the challenges of the Grand Paris Express, one of the largest transport projects in Europe. The consortium will submit tenders for the future metro lines 16 and 17.

Catherine Guillouard, Chairwoman of the RATP group stated: “The partnership signed by RATP Dev with transport players such as ComfortDelGro Transit and Alstom is a strategic coup for the RATP group. On a daily basis and all over the world, RATP Dev, under the leadership of Laurence Batlle, proves its ability to offer high-performance, safe, and innovative transport solutions to serve the cities and regions of today and tomorrow. This alliance with ComfortDelGro Transit and Alstom underscores a shared desire to help the Paris Greater Region develop its transport networks for the benefit of the local population and to bolster the city’s reputation around the world. This is a major undertaking, and I know that RATP Dev’s teams are ready for it and determined to make it a success.”

ComfortDelGro Chairman Lim Jit Poh said the move was a “significant” step in furthering the Group’s vision of expanding its rail capabilities beyond Singapore. “We have been operating light and heavy rail in Singapore for 17 years now and have amassed strong capabilities. This partnership is testimony to how far we have come and we are excited to be participating in the GPE tender. I think the three companies complement each other very well and the breadth and depth of experience that they bring to the table cannot be discounted. As a Group, ComfortDelGro will continue to look at opportunities around the world, especially in countries we already operate in as we work at growing our rail portfolio.”

Jean-Baptiste Eyméoud, President Alstom France declared: “The partnership signed with RATP Dev and ComfortDelGro Transit allows Alstom to extend its maintenance know-how in France, in particular in metro maintenance that the Group has already developed in many capitals around the world. The complementarity of the respective expertise of RATP Dev, Comfort DelGro Transit and Alstom will make it possible to offer a competitive and quality offer to the Île-de-France Region and to future Grand Paris Express travelers.”

About the Grand Paris Express metro lines 16 and 17

Line 16 will be fully automated and will travel 29 kilometres across three administrative departments in eastern Île-de-France. It will benefit 800,000 residents whose existing public transport options are limited. Linking 10 stations from Saint-Denis Pleyel to Clichy-Montfermeil in 27 minutes, it will also serve several host sites of the Paris 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Line 16 is expected to carry 200,000 passengers per day.

Line 17 will be driverless too, and will follow a 27 km route. It will constitute a major new transport corridor for the northern metropolitan area. Linking 9 stations, from Saint-Denis Pleyel to Mesnil-Amelot in 25 minutes, the line will benefit the nearly 565,000 residents of the three administrative departments it traverses. Line 17 is expected to carry between 130,000 and 160,000 passengers per day.
